

The Caitlin Brondolo Charitable Foundation is a registered 501 C 3 organization that was started in June 2009, following the tragic death of Boca Raton resident Caitlin Brondolo, age 12 and her best friend Amber Wilson. A car was left running in the enclosed garage of Amber's home and both girls died from carbon monoxide poisoning while in their sleep. The foundation's mission is to create awareness about the danger & prevention of carbon monoxide poisoning. The foundation actively runs a campaign called "SAFE HOME/SAFE BABY" in which each parent of a newborn receive a carbon monoxide detector at our local hospital.

A Note from the organizer...

Hi, my name is Maya Leibovich and this is my Bat Mitzvah project.
I am in 7th grade at Logger's Run Middle School, and chose to raise money for the Caitlin Brondolo Charitable Foundation.
I chose this charity because it's close to my heart. When I was younger, Caitlin lived across the street from my house. She and her sister, Cassie, were always so nice to me and my brother, Edan, and we would play outside and ride bikes.
Caitlin's tragic death was the first time I experienced loss, and I was devastated! The nice girl across the street would never ride bikes with me again or even come over to say hi.
I've decided to do this race so more people will know about the dangers of carbon monoxide and not have to suffer a loss like Caitlin's family and friends did. I hope that you will support this race and join us as we raise money to buy carbon monoxide detectors that will be given out to new parents at our local Hospital.

Thank you for your support!
